'Pin Game' Ban Validity Halts Council Vote

City Sees Possibility Amusement Feature May Save Devices

Uncertainty was expressed at the city council meeting last Monday over the power of the city to ban "pin" games and caused at least a two-weeks' delay in the introduction of the proposed ordinance.

Some merchants, City Attorney Albert Mansfield pointed out, do not pay off in cash or merchandise and maintain the games for "amusement" purposes only. It was doubted that the city could stop the games if all of them were similarly conducted.

Councilman James Eva, who had proposed the ordinance at the meeting two weeks ago when he brought out that students were placing bets on the outcome of the games, said he did not desire to have the board pass an ordinance which was not enforceable.

City Attorney Albert Mansfield, who had presented the ordinance patterned after one in effect in Burlingame, agreed to present the penal code provisions covering the pin games to see if it did not cover the desired ban.

The ordinance proposed by Mansfield provided a fine from $100 to $500 and jail terms up to six months.

ARTERIAL STREETS NOT DESIGNATED

The council, after securing no recommendation from the planners on the proposal to make Jefferson avenue and Woodside road into arterial thoroughfares, resubmitted the question to the planners for further consideration.

City Councilman Robert Jones asked the opportunity to appear before the planning body to argue in favor of making Woodside road into an arterial, stating that speeds maintained on the road made it imperative that traffic entering from side streets be halted by stop signs.

As to arterial streets in general, Police Chief C. L. Collins and City Manager E. A. Rolison declared their opposition because the tendency is to cause protected boulevards to become speedways and thus increase the traffic hazard.

City Councilman Evans Fletcher sought by motion to have both streets declared arterials, but his move was lost for lack of a second, after which the matter was referred back to the planners for further study.

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL

Other actions of the council included:

Heard further protest from the planning body on the maintenance by R. N. Buben, 61 Avondale avenue, of more than one residence on his property and of the erection of a tent sleeping quarter there. The council criticized the failure of Mr. Buben to secure a permit for the latter quarter and agreed to secure his co-operation in agreeing that the second residence will be subject to removal when the property is sold.

Changed the name of Myrtle street between Vera and Jefferson avenues to Hawes street, and of Hawes between the same streets to Myrtle.

Agreed to pay a $44.17 claim of the Mills hospital and a $50 claim of the Mason Emergency Hospital for treatment of "Al" Anderson, volunteer fire fighter, who was injured in the Perry fire of July 4, 1934.

Granted permission to Julius Smith to resubdivide 18 lots in Redwood Highlands as approved by the planning commission.

Voted $50 toward the Young Mens' Christian Association.

Postponed for two weeks four proposed city salary increases totaling $45.

City Denies Plea For Negro Church

SAN MATEO, Sept. 18.—Petition of Charles E. Archibald to move an old clubhouse now on B street near Ninth avenue to Santa Inez near Humboldt, to be rebuilt into a Negro Baptist church, was denied by the city council. The lot, proposed site of the church, is divided by a zoning line. On half the lot the church could be built, on the other half it would violate a city ordinance. The issue has been a controversial one in San Mateo for some time.

S. S. F. MAN, 61, DIES

SAN MATEO, Sept. 18.—Leaving no known relatives, Richard Setter, 61, of South San Francisco, died at Community Hospital. He had been ill there since July. No funeral arrangements have been made.

IRONER CAMPAIGN INTERESTS MANY

Drudgery Eliminated By Modern Means Of Ironing

Featured by displays and demonstrations of the new electric ironing machines in local stores, the campaign on irons now being conducted by the Electric Appliance Society of Northern California and participated in by local stores is attracting the attention of many women.

Housewives of this city who have already attended the demonstrations being held as part of the educational program of the campaign are enthusiastic over the many recent improvements in this great time and labor saving appliance. The fact that American women bought more ironers in 1934 than in any previous year and the fact that this year's demand is even greater, prove that women are now seking to free themselves from the age-old bugaboo of hand ironing and are determined to enjoy the pleasure of effortless ironing.

As a special feature of the present campaign, dealers of this city are offering to give away free a genuine Cannon towel with colored border to any woman who will come into the store, enjoy a demonstration and iron the towel herself.

This offer is made to show everyone the ease of effortless ironing with a modern ironing machine.

The following reliable makes of electric ironing machines are cooperating in the offer of giving away a genuine Cannon towel: Easy, General Electric, Thor, Conlon, Ironrite, Westinghouse and Meadows.

SCHOOLS OBSERVE CONSTITUTION DAY

Americanism Features Programs of Pupils And Teachers

With patriotic services, songs, recitations and speeches appropriate to Constitution Day, the city's elementary schools observed the occasion Tuesday.

Sequoia high school, handicapped by its lack of an auditorium now being painted, held no formal program but celebrated the day in classroom observances.

At McKinley Elementary School, Mrs. Florence Donnelly, Legion auxiliary Americanism chairman, gave an address this morning on "The Constitution" in a program marked also by pledges to the flag, recitation of the preamble to the constitution by the low sixth grade. Singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" closed the ceremonies. McKinley intermediate school held its Constitution Day observance Friday when pupils heard a speech by Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn on the constitution.

The day was observed at the Lincoln school by a fitting program which included: Salute and allegiance to the flag, by entire school; song, "America the Beautiful," by entire school; "The Preamble, a reading by Donald Vaughn; "The Constitution," a talk by Bobby Rogers; "The Amendments," a talk by Jack Wildanger; "The Constitution Today," by Elmer Knitter; song, "America," by entire school.

At Jefferson the observance program was: salute to the flag and "America," recited and sung by the student body; poem, "America for Me," by Jacklyn Palm; recitations, "Breathes There a man," by Shirley Welton, and "American's Creed," by Robert Patterson and "The Flag" by Keith Dean. Homer Spellenberg, principal, closed the program with an address on "The Constitution and Our Flag."

A similar program was given at the Central school. James Walsh and Keith Dean gave recitations, and Gene Curry sang "Our Flag." Mrs. Donnelly addressed this student body also.

At Garfield school Max Thornton, principal, spoke on "What Is Constitution Day?" Paul Richter, pupil, read an original paper written about the constitution by Yvonne Penez, teacher.

At Washington School, Jack Chappelle, sixth grade teacher, addressed the students. Songs, salutes and reading of parts of the constitution completed the program.

Fishing Vessel Fast on Beach At Pescadero

Coast Guard Cutters On Hand to Release 'Vagabond Lady'

With extent of its damage unknown, but the crew of 12 safe, the fishing boat "Vagabond Lady," which ran aground on the San Mateo county coastline near Pescadero early today, awaited rescue this afternoon by Coast Guard vessels sent from the San Francisco base.

Coast Guard cutters "Shawnee" and "Ariadne" arrived at the scene from San Francisco shortly before 1 o'clock and prepared to pull the fishing boat free.

Newly-launched, the "Vagabond Lady" was only at sea for its second day when it went aground at 4:30 o'clock this morning in a heavy fog off the Pescadero coast. It was held fast on the sandy beach and is believed to have been damaged to some extent.

Two members of the crew of 12 made their way to shore and set out for the town of Pescadero to summon aid, and later returned to the scene.

The boat is owned by A. Sabella, sea food distributor with headquarters on Fishermen's wharf in San Francisco. The names of the captain and members of the crew were not available.

Cost of the vessel was given as $40,000 and in addition it had nets worth $5000 aboard. The boat is 82 feet long.

SEQUOIA PLAYERS OFFER MELODRAMA

'Whistling in Dark' To Be Presented On October 4

By BARBARA MOORE
Sequoia Correspondent

As their first production this year, Sequoia Players will present "Whistling in the Dark," a comedy melodrama by Laurence Gross and Edward Childs Carpenter, in the Sequoia Union High School auditorium October 4 at 8 p.m. The production will be directed by C. A. van Patten, dramatic coach at the school.

The comedy, a pleasing one full of laughs and thrills, will be highly amusing to the audience, according to the director. A talented cast of characters has been chosen to fill the roles of this comical three-act play, and rehearsals are now under way.

Russell Newman, hero of the production, will portray an amusing role as a writer of detective stories. Charlotte Morisette will play the part of the fiancee, Toby Van Buren, a young debutante. Jake Dillon, leader of the notorious Dillon gang, will be played by Robert Bettencourt. Dillon's right hand man, Joe Salvatore, is the role given to Joe Maxwell. George McCarron will play the part of Charlie Shaw, an evil looking man who would rather kill than eat. Lloyd Martin will take the part of Slim Scanton, an unpleasant gangster, while the role of Herman Lefkowitz, a dapper Jewish druggist and carrier of narcotics, will be done by Haskell Nash. Adalene Bowman will play the part of the telephone operator.

The cast is working daily on this thrilling plot of the experiences of Wallace Porter, the hero who had accidentally run into a band of criminals and was forced by the leader to invent a flawless plot by which they could do away with the crime commissioner or be murdered with his fiancee, Toby Van Buren, by these men. The plot is solved but the results are the big events in the gangster melodrama.

BOND PLAN OFFERS EASIEST WAY OUT OF 1915 ACT DEBT

[EDITORIAL]

Voters of Redwood City will not undertake some novel step September 24 if they approve the $425,000 bond issue to refund the 1915 act debt which burdens the city with the gravest financial problem in its history.

They will by their approval take the same sensible step which others in private and public life have found necessary when debts have been found too burdensome to carry. Some of the largest business corporations, as well as the United States government, have taken advantage of the present cheap money rates to refund their outstanding indebtedness at a great saving in interest.

Likewise, citizens here are being asked to approve the issuance of bonds carrying the lowest interest charge in the history of the city—3½ per cent. The 1915 street act bonds bear interest of 7 per cent. If there were no other benefits to be derived from this refunding plan than reducing the interest charge one half it would be the part of good sound business sense and real economy to do so.

As has been pointed out before, when these 1915 act bonds were issued (in the years 1924 to 1931) money was scarce and high-priced—it is now cheap and plentiful. This is our opportunity to hire it at low cost. The proposal is not one to create a new indebtedness. The obligation exists. It was incurred some years ago and the benefits which were provided in the way of public improvements are permanent and are being enjoyed every day. Unfortunately many of those who incurred the debt are now unable to pay the bill, and the supreme court has ordered the whole city to make it good. The city will get its funds back through acquiring the properties and disposing of them when the market offers the best opportunity to make a profit.

Under supreme court mandate, the council could be forced to meet the debt by levying a special 10-cent per $100 tax in every district in which defaults are occurring. This could make the tax rate $1 per $100 for this purpose alone, doubling the present rate to $2 per $100. Certainly the public is not in a position to meet doub'e tax burdens in these times. It is inconceivable that the citizens of Redwood City will not take the easier way out by approving the refunding bond plan.

Much Activity In Real Estate Shown By Sales

Real estate continues active in Redwood City, according to reports of several brokers made today.

W. L. Meussdorffer disclosed that although the Felton Gables tract had been on the market only 90 days, considerable activity has been shown there. The first purchaser built a five-room house and is moving in at once. Gas, water and electricity have been put in on this tract, formerly owned by United States Senator Felton. Encinal avenue, which leads to the Gables from El Camino Real, has but recently been paved.

Dave L. Walter reports a number of sales: the former Dusel residence, 340 Arlington road, to Richard L. Erlin of San Francisco; the home at 528 Hopkins avenue for H. Spier to Mrs. Kilpack, the sale being made in conjunction with Henry Witte's office; residential property on Alameda de las Pulgas for the San Mateo County Building & Loan Company to Stanley Jordan; Atherton acreage and home for Mrs. J. W. Grant to Viola H. Callison; a Barney avenue home for A. M. Huling to Claude S. Swayze; property for C. Feusier to Thomas Maguire; Menlo Oaks residence on Coleman avenue for J. C. Doolittle to D. Harkleroad.

Gambling Quiz By Grand Jury Seen As Likely

Ferrell May Turn Over Evidence Gathered To Inquisitors

Possibility was seen here that the new grand jury when it is convened will be charged by District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell to investigate alleged gambling conditions in San Mateo county.

Although Ferrell declined to say definitely whether or not the jury would be asked to investigate bingo games, operation of "bookies," and other alleged gambling, he is considering turning over the evidence he has been collecting the past few weeks to the jury, instead of completing the work himself.

For several weeks Ferrell has had undercover men watching the workings of bingo, which has recently invaded the county, and had said he himself would soon direct a raid on the Robbins Bingo Palace in Bayshore City and bring in the operators for a court test of legality of the game.

MAY GET SCOTT CASE

If the new jury, which is to be drawn in the near future by Judge A. R. Cotton from the panel of 30 names selected last week, undertakes a gambling investigation, it will be the second probe to be asked of it immediately after its convocation, providing Supervisor Albert Witt of Colma stands steadfast in his determination to have the jurors look into the workings of the county engineer's office.

KELLOGG OFFERS NAMES

Meanwhile, fuel was added to the flames of the friction which has developed between County Manager Walter T. Kellogg and Supervisors Fred Beer and John W. Poole when the executive said he would gladly enlighten Beer as to whom he referred at supervisors' meeting when he said the supervisorial pair were dissatisfied with Kellogg because certain men they sought to have placed were not considered.

Kellogg still refused to make the names public, however.

Supervisor Poole, like Beer, scoffed at Kellogg's charges, and declared his objection to Kellogg was based on his belief the manager was "trying to build up a big political machine" of which he (Poole) didn't approve and would not tolerate."

"His charges don't worry me at all," Supervisor Poole said.

'Careful' Burglar Robs 'Trading Post'

A man who was careful enough to replace the window pane he removed to enter the California Trading Post, novelty store at Atherton, today was being sought by sheriff's officers for stealing $14 from the antique and curio shop.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Maloney, who investigated, learned that sometime Saturday night the prowler had carefully scraped the putty from a 16x20-inch window, removed the glass, entered through the aperture, and helped himself to $10 in change and $4 in sales tax pennies, all found in a cabinet in the store. Upon leaving the burglar replaced the glass and substituted mud for putty in fastening the window.

SCOTT WELCOMES GRAND JURY QUIZ

Engineer Would Like Chance to Reveal Inside of Row

Declaring the assertions were "too weak to take notice of," Supervisor Fred Beer Tuesday denied charges of County Executive Walter T. Kellogg that the supervisor, along with Supervisor John W. Poole, attempted to secure political appointments for his friends, and failing to do so, turned on the county manager.

As to the preferring of charges against Kellogg, which he was asked to do by the other three members of the board of supervisors if he wants his resignation resolution to be passed, Supervisor Beer said he was "undecided" on what course to pursue.

Meanwhile, Attorney Fred Comba, on behalf of County Engineer Carl R. Scott, declared the engineer would welcome a grand jury inquiry into his actions, threatened at yesterday's board meeting by Supervisor Albert Witt Jr. of Colma.

"The sooner Witt brings the matter to the grand jury's attention when it is convened, the better it suits us," Comba said. "We have nothing to hide."

He suggested that if Witt wanted to remove Scott from office, the supervisor himself could file charges against Scott, "like Dr. Thompson did against Dr. Morrison."

Comba reported Scott and he were analyzing the report of Inspector H. C. Arnold on the Lobitos Creek bridge, now under process of construction and which Arnold says will cost more than Scott estimated. Comba said that several errors had been found in the compilations of Arnold, who was employed by County Manager Kellogg on request of the majority members of the supervisors without the matter having been formally passed in open board meeting. Arnold is now unable to collect his $10-per-day salary from the road department because Scott claims the engineer only is empowered to hire men for road work.

Superior Judge A. R. Cotton, who is drawing this year's grand jury, said today he was not sure whether or not he would draw the political situation to the attention of the jury when it is convened, which will probably be the last of this week or first of next, according to the jurist.

Neither Engineer Scott nor Supervisor John Poole could be reached today for their opinions on the strife in the county.

San Bruno Is Upheld In Garbage Contract

The right of the San Bruno city council to grant a five-year contract to Louis Tournahu for disposal of that city's garbage has been upheld by the state appellate court in a decision which reversed a verdict given by the late Judge Franklin Swart.

After the franchise originally had been given several years ago William Gurtz, V. Sgarlato and P. J. Clark, citizens of the community, sued to have the contract voided. Judge Swart granted the request, only to have the case appealed.

Scott Ouster Plea By Witt Lacks Support

Lobitos Bridge Work Used As Excuse For Atempt

Efforts of Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, to have District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell prepare charges of alleged incompetency against County Engineer Carl Scott were defeated before the board of supervisors Monday.

Witt's proposal fell flat when even his colleagues, Chairman Manuel Francis and Walter High, refused to support him with a second.

The move came after the board heard a written report from Harry W. Arnold, inspector on the Lobitas bridge, that the cost under Scott's plans would be an asserted $2500 greater than the bridge could be constructed for under private contract.

Scott answered Witt and Arnold by asserting that the bridge would be put in for the estimated $3500 cost, and that Arnold's figures were not correct. The engineer was publicly supported in his declaration, as loud clapping occurred after his remarks.

Supervisor Fred Beer, minority board member who has been supporting Scott since the majority efforts to place Urban S. Marshall in the office started, drew another public demonstration when he remarked at the absurdity of having a $10 per day inspector "sitting on a lumber pile" to watch four men at work.

RURAL LIGHT CHARGES HIT AS "EXCESSIVE"

Demanding once again that County Executive Walter Kellogg dig up all maps and contracts between the County of San Mateo and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, Monday asserted that electric light charges in rural districts were "excessive."

Witt has sought for months to have Kellogg dig up the original contracts so that a study could be made of the charges. He said the move would probably be followed up with a petition to the railroad commission asking a reduction in the rates. Kellogg said he would have the reports ready shortly.

HOG RANCH CHANGES ORDERED BY GANS

Dr. Charles C. Gans, public health director, notified the board that changes were ordered in many of the 39 hog ranches visited by him in the Colma district. He asked the board to delay award of permits for the hog ranches for one month pending compliance with his orders. Ranches which have not made the changes will not receive favorable recommendations, Dr. Gans said.

The other accident victim was Alex B. Johnson, 45-year-old gardener for the Mills Estate at Millbrae. He was killed instantly when he fell or leaped from a fifth-story window of a Jones street hotel His body crashed through a light well to the pavement.

The thud of Johnson's body on the pavement attracted Albert Maracci, occupant of a third floor room, who notified police.

Employes at the hotel at 344 Jones street said Johnson had registered there Saturday.

City Council Rallies Support to Bond Issue

GRAVE IMPORTANCE OF WIPING OUT 1915 DEBT TOLD

Slash of 20 Cents In Tax Rate Here Possible

With but a few days left to emphasize to the voters the wisdom of approving the $425,000 bond issue to be voted upon next Tuesday, the city council on Monday determined to contact as many citizens as possible through newspaper articles, club meetings and house to house canvasses.

It is emphasized by the council that the tax rate will be reduced 20 cents from $1.35 per $100 to $1.15 if the bond issue is carried. If, on the other hand, the bonds are defeated, the full 30-cent special 1915 levy will be retained in the tax rate.

The 30-cent special rate unfortunately is only sufficient to meet interest, it is pointed out, and will not help in retiring the principal of the $400,000 or more debt.

Delinquent bonds and interest now amount to $163,000, and unmatured bonds, those not due, amount to $237,000, making the $400,000 total. This is an obligation resting upon the city by virtue of court order, and bears interest at 7 per cent.

New bonds proposed to be issued by the council will bear interest of 3½ per cent so that the interest load will be immediately cut in half.

In addition to the interest savings, citizens benefit in having an extended period in which to meet the debt and will find it much easier under the smaller yearly payments to carry the load.

The alternative which might be forced upon the city and probably will be if the bonds fail to carry will be the levy of special taxes up to 10 cents per $100 in each of the districts in which defaults are occuring. This could easily step the tax rate up to $1 per $100 additional, increasing the present rate of $1 per $100 to $2 per $100.

The proposed 10-year bond issue of $425,000 (if the entire amount were used and this is doubtful) means a charge each year of $42,500 for principal and a decreasing amount for interest beginning at $14,875. For the first year the charge would be $57,375. To meet this payment and subsequent ones, receipts from present improvement assessments would be supplemented by a special tax levy, which it is estimated would be nominal. But each payment made reduces the obligation whereas at present quite a large levy is required simply to meet interest demands.

The benefit to the taxpayer is this: The obligation is spread over 10 years and the rate of interest is just one-half. The annual levy at least for three or four years, perhaps longer, will be much less than would be necessary without this refinancing.

Citizens who have been contacted and who fully understand the problem are supporting the bond issue because they observe that it is by far the easiest and cheapest way out.

What the council fears is blind opposition to the bonds merely because they are bonds. But, to refute this stand, the council points out that the debt actually exists and the bonds are merely refunded—not new ones issued.

Mysterious Injuries Send Man to Hospital

Bernard McDonald, 33-year-old San Franciscan, was in the Community Hospital at San Mateo today suffering from a possibly fractured shoulder, injured arm and bad burns on his back, incurred when he was reportedly struck on Tuesday in Redwood City by a truck or a freight train.

Late last night he appeared at the sheriff's offices here, dazed and unable to say exactly how he had been hurt. At first he told officers he had been struck by a truck while attempting to board a bus. Later he said he had been hit by a freight train. Officials said the man had been drinking.

THERE is not one solitary moment of your time taken to keep fires going when you have gas heating in your home. A turn of a key or a touch of your finger on a thermostat and you command clean, constant, lively heat, to brighten cold gray days hour after hour without further attention.

More than that, too, your wall paper, rugs, woodwork and furnishings stay fresh and new-looking longer. That means less constant cleaning and dusting because there is no furnace or stove dirt and dust to clean up at any time in a gas heated home.

Perhaps you know all this but you have guessed gas heating costs too much. Don't guess. Come in and get the facts—all the facts about the economy of gas heating. Then you will decide you can afford to heat your home this modern way. And after you have used gas heating you'll find that gas heating is your pocketbook's best friend. Come in and let us show you how little money pays for the equipment you need on our easy purchase plan.

Jessie Condie Wins Turnbull Will Fight

Miss Jessie Condie, legatee of the late William Turnbull, San Mateo educator and philanthropist, Monday apparently won her fight for the bulk of his $90,000 estate, which had been sought in a contest by Mrs. Helen Gillespie of San Francisco, niece of Turnbull. Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt admitted Turnbull's will, leaving Miss Condie the bulk of the estate, to probate.

Democracy Faces Bold Challenge, Says New Pastor

"American democracy is facing its most critical challenge today," said the Rev. Schuyler Pratt at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday in his first sermon here, on "The Place of Christ in a Democracy."

"Its field of struggle is wide as the world, but its foes are within its own nature. Is America just to its workers? Honest in its politics? Wise in its education? Pure in its living? In other words, is America following the way of Christ? the minister asked.

"Our Democracy means three things: free opportunity, the joy of living one's own life, and the acceptance by each one of responsibility for the whole of our life.

"The most tragic fact in America today,' says James Truslow Adams, 'is the widening gulf between our ideals and our achievements."

"So far have we fallen from the vision of our founders that the great words of faith in America sound like an imaginary mythology, and one of the greatest Americans of today can say that we now have 'not one truly memorable person.' These are misleading half truths.

"We have one memorable person—Jesus Christ. He alone makes possible for us the free opportunity we enjoy. Life loses its joy when lived in opposition to Him. Only under His principles dares any one of us to take responsibility. Apart from Him, a brief rule by sheer physical force is easy enough, as dictators often demonstrate. America cannot afford to play with such short-lived schemes.

"Christ makes democracy possible, its life worth while, its burdens bearable. Deep in its heart, America is true to Him."

Stanford Building 'Mistaken for Hotel'

Nickolas Biezim, 31-year-old Russian who was found Sunday in the administration building at Stanford University and who explained he thought it was a hotel, today was being held in jail at San Jose for deportation authorities.

Biezim, who speaks very broken English, according to officers, admitted he had entered this country illegally. He said he swam across the Rio Grande river from Mexico to Texas, after having had an interesting trip from Vladivostok. He jumped ship in Genoa, making his way to Jamaica, he said, and finally got to Mexico, from where he entered the United States.

Fourteen classifications of workers were at their tasks 2,500,000 hours (685 years, or nearly seven centuries) to build the French liner Normandie.

PARKING METERS?

Burlingame Ponders
NEW 5-CENT PLAN

BURLINGAME, Sept. 17—Burlingame may solve its parking problem by installation of the "parking meters" which aroused attention, both humorous and serious, after being inaugurated in Oklahoma City.

This possibility was seen last night when Councilman Allan F. Hunt proposed to his fellow council members that the meters, which permit one hour's parking for a deposit of five cents, would obviate difficulties which the city has been having with crowded parking on Broadway.

"It ought to be worth 5 cents to anyone to park on Broadway Saturday afternoons," Allan said, much to the amusement of listeners.

City Attorney John Davis was instructed to write immediately for information to Oklahoma City officials.

Queen Contest End Postponed For Two Weeks

Although date of the end of the contest had previously been set for next Monday, the committee in charge today announced the queen contest for the coming San Mateo County Floral and Products Fiesta would be extended until October 6.

"Many newcomers" in the contest warranted the extension, the committee explained in revealing the new date.

"A merry race is being run in every one of the 11 districts throughout the county," the committee reported.

One girl is to be chosen from each of the 11 districts and the girl receiving the highest vote will also be made Queen Flora to rule over the fiesta, which wil lbe held at Bay Meadows October 11, 12 and 13.

The problem of producing lighting gas from lignite in a direct way is reported to have been solved by a German engineer.

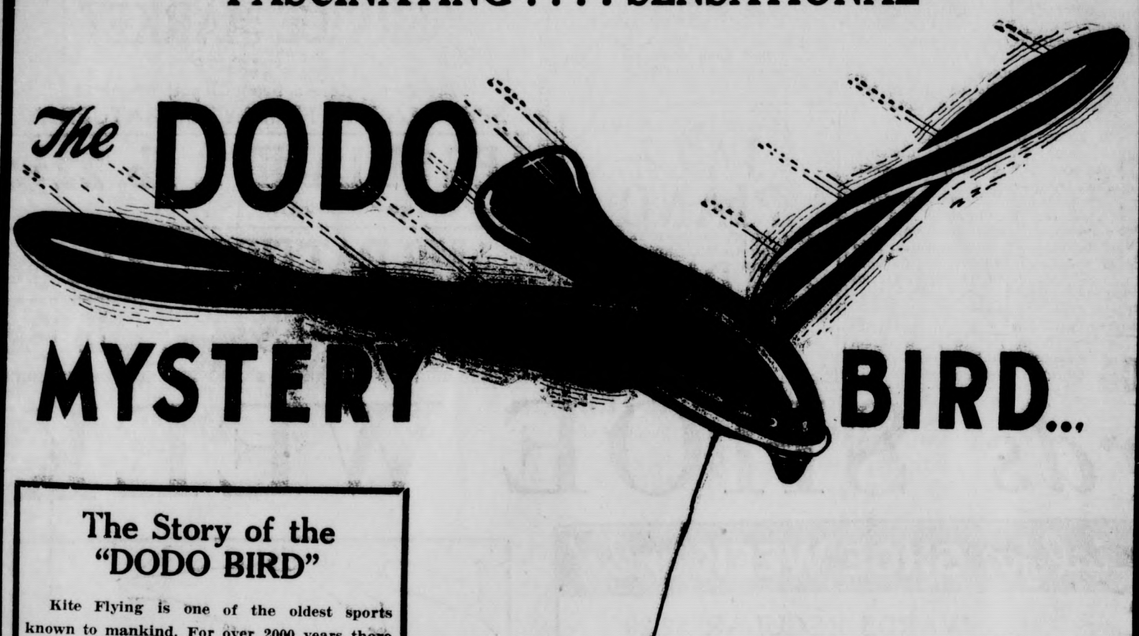
SKY FISHING

FASCINATING .... SENSATIONAL



The DODO MYSTERY BIRD...

The Story of the "DODO BIRD"

Kite Flying is one of the oldest sports known to mankind. For over 2000 years there has never been any improvement made in the principle or idea of kites. Then came the DODO MYSTERY BIRD, designed and perfected by one of America's foremost Aero-Dynamic Engineers, sturdily constructed, virtually crash proof, self stabilizing and using WIND ALONE for its motivating power and capable of sustained flights for an indefinite period.

Famous Aviators have said that they would like to see this amazing scientific toy in the hands of every air-minded boy and man in America, as it gives them a knowledge and mastery of air currents that can be gained in no other way. SKY FLYING with the DODO MYSTERY BIRD is the most fascinating of all boy sports, and no one is too old but what they will get an immense thrill when they fly the DODO MYSTERY BIRD.

ROD and REEL

The ROD and REEL is of the highest class of workmanship and something that not only the boy but his Dad as well will be mighty proud to own. Just think of owning a standard 7' STEEL FISHING ROD with a Standard REEL of the 2-speed drag type; something that will last a lifetime and something that you can not only fly the DODO MYSTERY BIRD with, but use as a fishing rod as well. The DODO MYSTERY BIRD will fly the same as a kite, but with the Rod and Reel it can be flown much more successfully and with a little practice, using the Rod and Reel it can be made to perform "stunts" that are almost uncanny.

This Rod and Reel Can Be used for Fishing

PRESIDENT FLAYED IN TALK

BURLINGAME, Sept. 18.—E. L. Maxwell, Mountain View attorney, addressed 60 Masons at the Masonic Hall in Burlingame last evening, scoring the administration for "usurping powers it was not entitled to." Maxwell said that President Roosevelt had taken "far too much power into his hands."

$162 Floor Show, Rum Bill Disallowed

Including $85 for a floor show and $77 for liquor for the congressional naval affairs committee banquet staged by the harbor commission last month in San Mateo, a $162 claim was being held up by County Executive Walter Kellogg today.

Signed by Percy J. Shaw, commission member and president of the new Civic League of San Mateo county, the bill was to have been paid from the harbor commission's $1,500 budget for the coming year, as was the $208 bill for the banquet, meals and rooms provided for the committee during its stay here. The $208 claim was allowed by the supervisors Monday, but who is to pay the $162 bill is undecided.

The average tourist spends $5.57 a day of which 27 per cent goes for lodgings and 37 per cent for food, the California Automobile Association estimates.

City Airport Plans Attracting Interest

Interest in Redwood City's airport development continues lively, Clifford Walk, airport committee chairman, reported to the council Monday, in announcing that a decision will be necessary before October 1 if the project is to be municipally operated.

Walk informed the board that several schools, oil companies interested in the aviation concessions, and persons who wish to hangar planes, have made inquiries concerning the airport.

Assistance of Congressman John J. McGrath in securing federal funds will be the next step undertaken, with Mayor Charles Lambert appointed to contact him.

Wayah Bald, 5,400 feet high in the Nantahala National Forest near Franklin, N. C., is said to be the only high mountain in the southern Appalachians with a motor road to its peak.

New Building For Patrolmen To Start Soon

Middlefield - Marshall Street Property Is Acquired

Lease of the 25 by 100-foot lot on the northeast corner of Middlefield road and Marshall street, to the California Highway Patrol for a new office building was reported Tuesday by Phil Brand, owner, through Julius Smith, local real estate broker who handled the deal.

Consumation of the lease gives assurance to Redwood City that the highway patrol office, now housed in the basement of the courthouse in crowded quarters, will not be moved to any other city, at least for a number of years to come.

Bids will be let immediately by Brand for the one-story building, in which will be five offices and a 20 by 25-foot garage space for motorcycles and automobiles of the department.

While cost of the structure is not known, it is expected the stucco building will involve expenditure of betwen $6500 and $7000 for construction and furnishings. Local help will be employed on the structure, which will be built immediately.

Consideration involved in the lease was not revealed.

The deal climaxes efforts of local citizens to maintain the highway patrol office here, and meets with approval of Capt. Paul Perussina, head of the local patrol, which consists of Hilda E. McGovern, clerk, and 18 highway officers.

JAMES S. JAMES WPA HEAD HERE

Ex-County Engineer Urges New Projects For District

Appointment of former County Engineer James S. James as Works Progress Administration local manager for San Mateo county was announced Tuesday by H. Gordon Hawes, acting director of the ninth district, whose headquarters are at San Jose.

James' selection for the position was based both on his being a resident and on his wide knowledge of the needs of San Mateo county due to his experience as a consulting civil engineer and county engineer here, Hawes said

W. C. Eshelman, who has been engaged, pending James' appointment, in the task of developing projects for San Mateo county, will become the latter's assistant, and will have charge of preparing the necessary engineering data for all projects recommended.

Up to September 9, twenty-five projects had been submitted for San Mateo county by the ninth district office of the Works Progress Administration. Involving a total expenditure of $470,410, these were designed to provide work for an average of about 1300 people per day over a period of approximately four months.

Obviously, they will not take care of the normal relief load for the balance of the period covered by the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act, James and Hawes pointed out, so it will be essential that the various public bodies in San Mateo county who can sponsor such projects give careful consideration to the submission of additional undertakings to avoid possibility of a heavy relief load being thrown on the county authorities.

James will be glad to entertain any suggestion along these lines, and will cooperate in every way possible in the development of worthwhile projects, he said. His new offices will be at the relief headquarters, 1300 Howard avenue, Burlingame.

Missing Woman, Son Of R. C. Are Sought

Police were asked Sunday to watch for Mrs. Mary Gerard Knox, 33, of Redwood City, and her son, Earl Owen Knox, 11, who reportedly left their Redwood City home at 823 Cleveland avenue Saturday.

Mrs. Knox, described as suffering from a nervous illness and who local police say has disappeared before, is the niece of Mrs. B. Y. Balcomb.

It was believed the woman took her son and went to San Francisco, and officers there have been asked to watch for her.

5 MILLION ASKED BY OCEAN SHORE

Value of Land Fixed At $1,000,000, Route Loss, $4,000,000

A value of $1,000,000 on its right of way and $4,000,000 for severance damages were asked today by the Ocean Shore Railroad Inc. in an answer to the State of California's efforts to secure the holding for highway purposes. The answer was filed here with the county clerk.

The $5,000,000 is the value placed on part of the coast holdings for which the state had deposited $6106 with the clerk. Judge A. R. Cotton granted an order directing the state to appear September 23 to show cause why additional funds should not be deposited.

In its answer, the railroad contends that the graded right of way is not needed but other highway routes can be found. The purpose of taking the railroad is merely to escape the high cost of new grading, it is charged.

Santa Cruz Avenue Undergoing Repairs

Extensive repairs to Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park, will be completed by the end of the week, according to a statement today from Irving Dunn, street commissioner. The project, covering a mile and three-tenths stretch of the thoroughfare from El Camino Real west, has employed nine men for the past 10 days in grading, oiling and the building up of shoulders on each side of the avenue. The work has been made possible by the allocation of $667 from the state gasoline tax fund.

Kellogg Ouster Attempt Fails For Second Time Before Board

Executive Charges Foes Dissatisfied Over Selections Made in Filling Offices; Refuses to Give Up Post

By the same 3-2 vote which kept his job for him two weeks ago, County Executive Walter Kellogg on Monday won another fight to retain his position.

Branding the time as "inopportune," Supervisor Walter High, Burlingame, cast the third vote against passage of Supervisor Fred Beer's resolution re-introduced today requesting resignation of the executive within a week or preferring of charges to remove him at the end of that time if he did not quit.

Supervisor Albert Witt Jr. of Colma immediately after Beer introduced his resolution at the board meeting, which a packed room and courthouse corridor watched in expectation of "fireworks," said that he believed such a resolution as had been introduced and seconded by Supervisor John W. Poole of Redwood City should be backed up with facts.

"I'm certainly not going to vote for a 'cat in the sack'," Witt declared.

He moved that the resolution be postponed until such time as Beer would bring charges against the executive, and suggested that a week would give the San Mateo supervisor more time to consider the matter.

BEER DISPUTES DELAY

"I've been thinking this matter over now for six or seven months," Beer said, "and I don't need more time to think about it. I've reached the conclusion that a step in the best interests of the people would be to have a change in the office of county executive.

"I believe that Kellogg himself has reached the conclusion he is not temperamentally, physically or otherwise capable of filling the office."

Board Chairman Manuel Francis of Half Moon Bay then declared he "wasn't going to get into more messes like the Morrison and engineer messes," and wouldn't commit himself for the resolution.

"Anyway, I don't think Kellogg will resign," Francis said.

At this time, Kellogg himself offered his statement, which he had prepared, and County Clerk E. B. Hinman read the two pages of counter charges against Supervisors Beer and Poole.

KELLOGG HITS SINCERITY

After detailing the move of a week ago Tuesday in which Kellogg's resignation was unsuccessfully sought by Beer, Kellogg launched into a condemnation of the pair's activities.

"If Supervisors Beer and Poole were sincere in their statements concerning unsavory publicity attaching itself to the administration of the county government, they have proven themselves decidedly inconsistent," Kellogg's statement said.

"For they, themselves, in the attempt to force my resignation, provided for the press the most distasteful headlines about San Mateo county.

"Since they have resorted to newspaper headlines in their campaign of persecution against me and since their true motives may be known to the general public, I therefore, feel it incumbent upon myself to enlighten the taxpayers of San Mateo county on the issue."

After declaring he would not resign, Kellogg said should they press the issues "they will find me ready to meet any" they may raise.

He then charged he had incurred the dislike of the two supervisors "because I refused to be tied to their political apron strings."

"I have refused to keep men in public office by appointment despite the fact they were friends of Supervisors Beer and Poole, because I felt they were not qualified."

TELLS 'PUBLIC INTEREST'

He then recited that although Poole had aided him in getting the office, shortly thereafter his "friendship ceased because he considered me 'unappreciative.'"

"I have always administered the duties of my office in the interests of public welfare and never have and never shall use it to pay off so-called personal debts of gratitude," he said.

Listing things which he said might cause him to be considered "unappreciative" by Beer and Poole, Kellogg named:

"My refusal to keep in public office a man, a friend of Supervisor Poole, who caused no end of trouble in the courthouse by his gossip and agitating.

"My refusal to appoint, at the inception of the charter, a man chosen by Supervisor Poole for county engineer.

"Inasmuch as Supervisor Beer is the political ally of Supervisor Poole, considered also as 'unappreciative' should be my refusal to appoint as county treasurer a man friendly to Supervisor Beer.

"My refusal to re-appoint to office a public official who had the support of Supervisors Beer and Poole and who one day offered me clothing, an ocean trip and a substantial sum of money if I would keep him on the job.

"I cannot say that Supervisors Beer and Poole were aware of the man's lucrative offer."

REFUSES NAMES

Kellogg refused to divulge names of those to whom he referred.

In concluding his statement, Kellogg said he offered it in the belief it was his "sworn duty as county executive to swing aside the curtain of insincerity and reveal what actually and truthfully motivates the activities against me of two men who have been elected to serve a public trust."

Only one person in the audience voiced an opinion on the proceedings. He was Jack Reuter, president of the Taxpayers Protective League, who said he believed the resolution as presented by Beer should be passed, since it called for charges to be preferred if Kellogg did not resign. Applause followed his remarks.

In making his statement that he felt it "an inopportune time to bring up this resignation matter," Supervisor High declared he had "no quarrel with anyone," and was neither for nor against Kellogg.

Belief had been expressed last week that Supervisor Witt would support Beer's move at the meeting today, since Witt had been overheard to remark that he was "sorry I didn't vote for it last time," and that he would support such a move if brought up again.

SCOTT REFUSES OFFER

High did not amplify his "inopportune" statement, but by many it was believed it referred to the fact that as yet Urban S. Marshall had not taken over the office now held by Carl R. Scott as county engineer, who would perform the county manager's duties until a new man is selected in case Kellogg is removed from the job.

Scott, who was given until 9 a. m. today by an A. N. Paterson to resign and receive for so doing a $400-a-month job, rejected the offer, and thus, it is believed, "threw a monkey wrench" into the Kellogg ouster plans, even though all supervisors denied authorizing Paterson to make the offer.

Beer's next move is uncertain at this time, but he said he did not plan to file charges against Kellogg as he believed the executive would in time see the wisdom of resigning of his own free will.

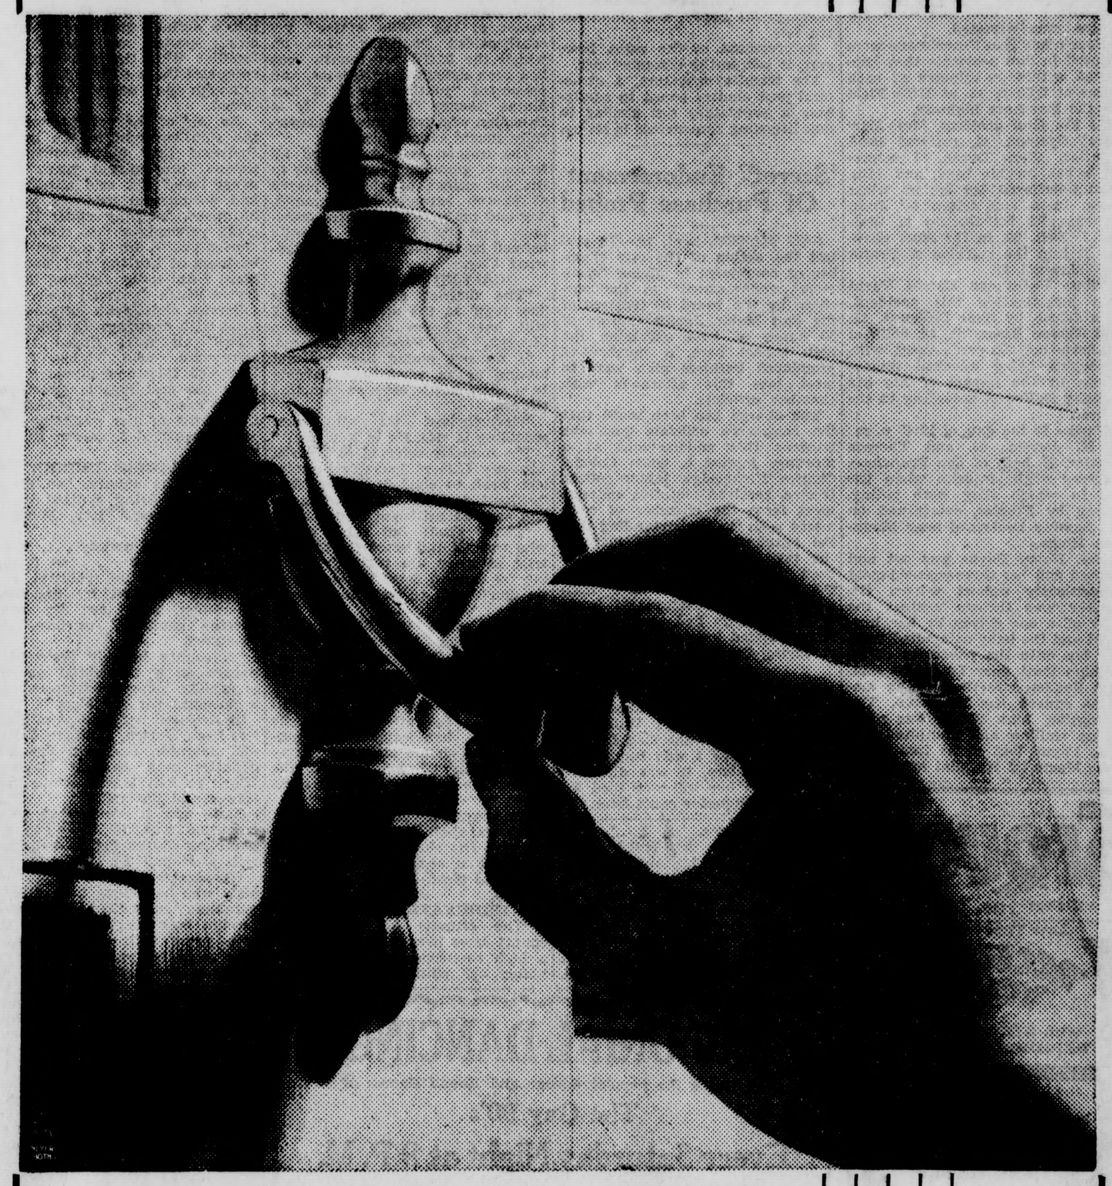
Every Day this Salesman Knocks at over 3000 Doors*



. . . and ALWAYS FINDS SOMEBODY HOME

It's putting it mild to say that The Tribune is a welcome salesman. If it ever fails to show up at a front door our circulation department gets a nasty phone call. Yet The Tribune doesn't try, ahead of everything else, to be a salesman. Its main purpose in life is to inform and entertain, as any well-written, well-edited newspaper should do. Meeting its readers on their own terms, it lets them sell themselves—the secret of good salesmanship the world over.

That's why The Tribune is one "business visitor" that's accepted socially by most any family when it is in a social mood. It interviews each buying member of the household when the sales-resistance bars are down. It is accepted by them all as an old family friend. Which isn't hard to understand. For The Tribune bears the stamp of reliability. Readers depend on it—from Mother with her recipe-problems down to Junior who mixes sports with his comics.

It is believed.

And it will sell more merchandise for you for that reason alone.

8 S. F. AUTOISTS HURT IN COUNTY

One Jailed After Car Hits Parked Auto In Redwood City

Eight San Francisco motorists suffered injuries in automobile accidents in this county over the week-end.

One incurred head and knee injuries and another was jailed on charges of driving while intoxicated as the result of an accident in Redwood City at 7:45 o'clock Sunday night.

Sabimo Sato, of San Francisco, was the injured man. According to Police Officers Fogarty and Genochio, who investigated, Sato was riding with Isaac Espinosa, 35, also of San Francisco, when the latter's car struck the parked machine of John L. Jackson, 1508 San Antonio street, Menlo Park, at the corner of Cedar and Main. Espinosa was arrested.

Four other San Franciscans were injured in two accidents that happened within 10 minutes of each other at 6:50 p. m. at Mills Field on the Bayshore highway.

In the first accident, Mrs. Margaret Oyasum, 41, suffered head injuries, Albert Duran, 45, incurred a cut on his head, and Mrs. Duran suffered leg bruises when three in a car driven by Juan Oyasum, 32, hit the car of Walter J. Bell, 30, in the rear, shoving it into the machine of Frank J. Waldvogel, 22.

While Patrolman Harold Varni was investigating this accident, cars driven by Sims DeVeuve, 21, and George Scroggins, 33, collided similarly not 200 yards away, with Scroggins being knocked unconscious by the impact of his car striking DeVeuve, according to the officer.

Earlier in the day, at 12:45 p. m., J. M. Jensen, 64, and Thomas Frazier, 29, both of San Francisco, suffered slight injuries when the car in which they were riding, driven by Frazier, overturned on the Skyline boulevard near Mountain Home.

Mrs. Harry Payne was cut and bruised and her three-year-old child miraculously unhurt when the mother was thrown against the door of a car driven by her husband and the baby catapulted from her lap onto the pavement of El Camino Real near Lawndale Sunday. Sudden swerving of the machine caused the mishap. The youngster, John Steele, was picked up smiling and uninjured but Mrs. Payne had to be treated at Mills Memorial Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

Phillip Resio, 36, Hillsborough gardener, broke his ankle in another freak accident occurring in South San Francisco. He was riding on the running board of a car which drew into the curb and caught his ankle between the curbing and the fender. He is at the South San Francisco Hospital.

Leonard's Office Gains Two Duties While Losing One

New state laws which went into effect this week added two new duties to those of the agricultural commissioner, and relieved him of one, Commissioner Max Leonard reported today.

Honey producers are now placed under a standardization law, and egg producers were placed under the supervision of the department of agriculture, which will watch quality and standards.

Termite regulation and control of operators was taken from the agricultural commissioner and placed within the jurisdiction of the state department of vocational standards.

According to Leonard, it is unlawful to sell for home consumption eggs which are unfit for human food as determined by candling. Eggs also must be labeled on packages as to quality and weight.

Restrictions are set up against deceptive packs, displays blendings, labelings for honey, and standards are set.

Enforcement of the rules, however, is left to the commissioner.

For termite operators, a structural pest control board to administer a regulatory act similar to that licensing contractors is set up.

"Secret" Endorsement Of Purchase Probed

SAN MATEO, Sept. 18.—To protest the action of the city chamber of commerce in giving "semi-secret endorsement" to the purchase by the board of trustees of the San Mateo Junior College of 30 acres of land adjoining the high school here, a number of prominent business men were to meet late this afternoon with chamber officials.

The charge has been made that the commerce officials gave the trustees this endorsement at a meeting, August 6, when Colonel Charles Kirkbridge, junior college trustee, received tentative endorsement from the chamber of commerce with the understanding that the purchase would not increase the tax rate. Since then, it has been disclosed that 10 cents of the tax rate would have been unnecessary if accumulated funds in the treasury had been used to retire bonded indebtedness instead of buying the land.

KIN BEQUEATHED ESTATE

The estate valued at about $10,000 left by Louise H. Willats of San Carlos when she died in Palo Alto September 1 was bequeathed to her relatives, it was disclosed today when her will was filed for probate in superior court here.

Pastor Scores Rule By Gamblers In Talk Asking County to Act

Decries Failure of District Attorney to Act After Repeated Threats to Put End To Gambling Activities

A political "housecleaning" from "top to bottom" is the ultimate solution of the gambling problem in this county, the Rev. Norman W. Pendleton told his First Congregational Church audience, which included several city officials, in his Sunday morning talk on "The Gambling Fever Is Epidemic."

But at the same time, the clergyman expressed hope that the district attorney "still . . . will come through," and himself rout the gamblers, especially the "big bosses."

Rev. Pendleton read his sermon from prepared copy, but departed from it on several occasions, once long enough to "wish we had an Earl Warren in this county (Warren is the militant Alameda county district attorney who has waged relentless war on gamblers) and another time to hint strongly that a "San Mateo county resident who owes allegiance to another nation" was behind the gambling element.

The pastor's reference is believed to point the finger at John W. Marchbank, Daly City resident, owner of the "Villa Mateo," recently-raided gambling club on which the $5,000 per month rent has been defaulted by lessees, and purported "political boss" of San Mateo county. Marchbank is a Canadian who twice has unsuccessfully sought citizenship.

The sermon severely scored all forms of gambling, condemning in the list games of chance played at church bazaars, bingo games, dog and horse races, theatre drawings, and "pin" games recently banned by the city council in Redwood City.

CALLED "KEY MAN"

"The district attorney is the 'key man' in the situation, and I still have hopes he will come through," Rev. Pendleton declared.

"I do not blame him for not mixing up in what may possibly be a sham battle between gambling cliques.

"Nevertheless, we all know gambling is rife. He is 'key man'."

The minister referred to District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell's promise last week to conduct prosecutions "without fear or favor" when he had secured sufficient information.

"That's good! But some of us who worked and voted for the district attorney are patiently waiting for him to come through, and we don't want to wait much longer!

"Start with the big bosses, Mr. District Attorney, if you know who they are, and those of us who believe in you will know that you mean business."

Rev. Pendleton admitted, however, that the official would be "fearfully handicapped if perchance, he should lack the hearty co-operation of judges and the dependable co-operation of a sheriff."

"It may be," said the pastor, "that we shall be obliged to put up with the shame until the people have a chance to go to the polls and clean house from top to bottom.

INDIGNATION GROWS

"The citizens of San Mateo county have been slow to act, but a high resentment and resolve is piling up, piling up, piling up, and when it breaks it will be with a flood of American indignation that we leave certain San Mateo county politicians gasping for their political lives."

The pastor opened his sermon with a short discourse on the general evils of the gambling epidemic which he called worse than alcoholism to cure, then launched into a definite tirade on gambling citing specific cases where those familiar with the situation could recognize those of whom he spoke, although no names were mentioned.

He told of the "pitiful stories of the ruin wrought in the lives of Redwood City businessmen, politicians, professional men, newspaper men," but said although he had documental evidence whereof he spoke, "nothing under the sun could persuade me to make these stories public, for I am not in the business of hurting and wounding men; I am today fighting the evil fevers which damaged their souls."

Service clubs with lotteries, theatres with drawings, churches with "fairs" all were flayed by the clergyman, who highly praised Redwood City councilmen in banning pin and marble games two weeks ago "because it is thus that the germs of the gambling fever are germinated in young innocent minds."

"PARADISE RUINED"

As for the county, "an earthly paradise is being sported by the gambling fever," Rev. Pendleton said.

"San Mateo county . . . is being advertised . . . as a disgusting mess of political corruption, fostered by gamblers' dominion, and torn by internecine gamblers' warfare," he declared.

"A county lavishly designed by nature as a residential paradise is rapidly being transformed into a paradise for gamblers."

He declared banishment of gamblers from Mexico, Southern California, Alameda and San Francisco counties was causing them to "flock to San Mateo county as a refuge and haven."

"And now it seems that an internecine war is on between gambling cliques for control of the rich pickings!" he asserted.

"Suddenly, certain public officials who have long been blind to gambling supervised by the big foreign boss start raids and rush into print with the declaration, 'The gamblers must go!'

"Sure the gamblers must go. But what gamblers? Just the little fellows who have recently moved into the county poaching on the rich preserves long controlled by the big boss? After the shouting and tumult dies and the little poachers are driven off, are we to discover that it was all a sham battle, with the big boss moving back in to reign supreme on this politico-gambler throne?"

BASED ON "PEEVE"

Rev. Pendleton referred to the recent "expose" of gambling conditions in Redwood City as "motivated by a personal peeve and a desire to get even with certain local officials who in the course of their duty had discovered and prohibited certain private wires used for gambling purposes."

"It is only fair to say that this gentleman telephoned me that he is today a reformed gambler—'that he was in the business and found it so rotten that he will never go into it again and is willing to do anything within his power to put a stop to gambling'," the clergyman revealed.

Rev. Pendleton lauded Redwood City as being "splendidly clean" and having an "efficient city administration."

The minister said that recently when an outside newspaper asked him what he intended to do in regard to the county situation, he replied:

"If I can be convinced that there is one county official with the power and grit to act, who has no ax to grind, and no private clique to serve, I will go through with him to the bitter end, but I am beginning to fear that there 'ain't no such animal in the county'."

"The gambling must go," the pastor decreed. "But I am very much of the opinion that in order to set our county right in the eyes of the fathers and mothers seeking homes for their children, we must have a political housecleaning from top to bottom."

Recreation Group To Inspect Beaches

A tour of San Mateo county beaches, both those already owned by the county and those being considered for purchase, will be made by the recreation commission Thursday to acquaint new members, S. D. Merk and George M. Havice, with the program of the commission before the next regular meeting Monday, Secretary Sophie Root said today.

Little Freedom Gained By Youth In Jail Escape

Edward Little, 20-year-old burglar, had but little freedom Tuesday as the result of his escape from the new San Francisco jail in this county.

And to pay for the little freedom he did have, he will serve an extra year on jail breaking charges, according to San Francisco sheriff's offices.

Employed as trusty in the kitchen, Little, with his one-year term half served, placed a coat over the window of the kitchen, broke the pane, dropped 20 feet to the ground, raced across the jail yard and scaled a 20-foot fence.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Leonard, who saw the prisoner as he dropped outside, organized a posse, which scoured the neighboring district for three hours. Little was found hiding in a ditch.

NEW TALBOT HEARING

Further hearing in Marjorie Talbot's divorce suit against W. C. Talbot of Hillsborough was set today for the local superior court before Judge Atteridge of Santa Cruz county at 10 a.m. Saturday.

First 'Misdemeanor' Drunk Driver Fined

First case to be tried here under the new law which makes drunken driving only a misdemeanor if no injuries are involved in the accident, Isaac Espinosa, 35, of San Francisco, paid a $90 fine in Police Judge Edward I. McAuliffe's court today, having served two days of a 20-day or $100 fine sentence. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Espinosa was arrested by Redwood City police after his machine had struck a parked car.
